Stepping into Generosity

WOMEN SUPPORTING WOMEN

Our Mission

We are women of all ages joining together to support area ministries and non-profits.

Our Vision

A kingdom-focused giving collaboration to meet needs, transform lives, and inspire hope.

Our Values - what we believe

- Generosity is a way of living with open minds and hearts.
- A natural joy comes from giving.
- God calls us to respond to the things that break His heart.

Our Story

We began in March 2022, with fifty inaugural members gathering to give away $75,000 granted to three local ministries serving women and children. Since that time, we have grown to over 100 members and have given away over $350,000 to local organizations helping women and children in the community we all love.

The Grant Process

Every year, our members nominate and choose our grantees to receive our collective contributions. Members are encouraged to learn about local Christian ministries serving women and children, with the option to nominate the ministry for grant consideration. Our research committee visits each nominee, receives their grant request, and chooses the top proposals for membership vote. Members then vote to choose how grant funds should be allocated.

A Hand Up – Hope House

Kelly Reagin, Director

Our mission is to connect with broken men and women and with a hand up, provide an opportunity for finding hope for a better life.

At A Hand Up, we provide safe and structured housing for men and women who have experienced devastation from addiction. Hope House is our women's program. Our team works together to create a loving and accepting environment that creates hope for healing. We are a Christ-centered community, with 12-step recovery principles based on Celebrate Recovery. We offer a discipleship curriculum that includes morning devotions, transferable work skills, leadership class, parenting class, and relapse prevention.

An Outreach to the Community of Youth

Alpha and Omega Outreach

Wanda Officer, Director

Our mission is to promote the spiritual growth of youth from single-parent families by ministering to their mind, spirit, and body through the gospel of Jesus Christ. “Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it.” (Prov 22:6)

We foster our youth’s educational needs through various programs: our afterschool partnership with Baylor School, an annual Black History program (“Leaving a Black Legacy”), spiritual enrichment through weekly Bible study. We also offer summer camp through our partnership with the City of Chattanooga Community Development, and vacation Bible school (VBS) through our partnership with New Birth Global Missions. We meet physical needs through our partnership with UT Agriculture and Master Gardeners of Chattanooga by providing fresh vegetables in a community known as a food desert.

Our 2025 Grantees

Jucinta Rome and Bobbi Stock, Founders

The mission of Girls Inspired is to cultivate the innate potential for girls living in marginalized neighborhoods by offering academic support, life skills education, mentorship, new experiences, and safe housing.

We offer an in-school program for girls at Brainerd High School, where we connect them with academic support, our Prayer Corner group, information, community resources, and new experiences such as: career options, community service projects, and college tours. We also offer an after-school program at the East Lake Boys and Girls Club for elementary aged girls that focuses on self-awareness and self-management, social skills, decision making, and relationship skills.

Scenic City Women's Network

Renee Nail, Executive Director

The Mission of Scenic City Women's Network (SCWN) is to encourage, equip, and energize today's Christian working woman. Founded over 30 years ago, SCWN was established in prayer, which is a chief distinguishing factor between us and civic or professional groups. Our vital programs in the marketplace provide spiritual support and inspiration that fit a working woman's 9 to 5 window. We offer Bible studies, weekly electronic devotions and Bible readings, monthly inspirational luncheons, our Praise Breakfast, prayer initiatives, relevant webinars, and our new Leadership Symposium.

We served hundreds of women this past year, praising God as members share how their lives have been transformed because SCWN walked with them through the seasons of their careers, impacting many lives for Jesus!
